PR4-A1 Psico- and methodological research

Very preliminary progress

- It plays an important role especially in skilled professions
- a broad range of skills is particularly important, IT work itself requires many skills, and these are even more important on digital labor platforms where workers need to differentiate themselves from competitors
- IT workers often work collaboratively and in teams, which is not common in normal freelancing (Ashford et al., 2018; Friedman, 2014).

What competencies and skills are needed for digital freelancers?

- European guidelines we have consulted are unfortunately very general.
- Digital skills
